COUNCIL OF WOMEN FINISH SESSIONS

Large Audience at Trinity Church Last Night.

HEARTY RECEPTIONS.

Automobile Ride to Theological Seminary—Delegates are Delighted With Alexandria.

The officers and delegates of the National Council of Women were entertained yesterday afternoon at an automobile ride of which Mrs. Clifton T. Howard was in charge. The ladies were met at four o'clock at Spring Park station, on their return from the reception tendered them at the White House by President and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. George Warfield, Dr. E. A. Gorman, Mrs. C E. Nicol, Mr. George Anderton, Mr. W. A. Moore, Mr. Jerome Kaufman, Mr. Harry Kirk, Mr. W. A. Peck, Mr. Weil and cars from the Mt. Vernon Stables, took the guests to the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Wallis where a lovely reception was given in their honor.

The house was beautifully springlike with blossoms and ferns.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Wallis were several ladies of the faculty.

Dean Crawford cordially welcomed the visitors and his address fell upon an appreciative gathering. The afternoon was so id eal and the hill so picturesque in its fresh garb of green, the reception such a unique and enjoyable function that the guests expressed great appreciation of the manner of the entertainment given them.

Yesterday's Reception.

Returning from the Seminary, the Council was given a reception by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, the President, at her home in Duke street.

Receiving with Mrs. Barrett in addition to the officers and delegates of the National Council of Women were the ladies on the various committees assisting in the entertainment of the Council while here.

The "Crannies," Mrs. Barrett's interesting home, was tastily arranged with palms and cut flowers. Attending most graciously in the dining room were Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mrs. Louis Scott, Miss Anne Lewis Jones, Miss Elizabeth Herbert, Miss Harriett Douglas, Miss Beall Daingerfield, and the Misses Barrett. A number of out-of-town guests were present.

Last Night's Meeting.

A large and appreciate audience was present last night in Trinity Church at the second public meeting of the Council which was addressed by Senator John D. Works, of California; Mrs. Helen Gardner and Mrs. Elizabeth Grannis, of New York.

Senator Works touched briefly on a number of subjects that he said gave him much concern. Referring to the great wealth of a few men he said, that some cities in this country had been so shameless as to accept libraries from a man whose wealth does not belong to him, and deplored the idea of the children of this country, receiving an education from Standard Oil.

"Under the guide of 'sex hygiene' the minds of the children of the country are being poisoned by dramatic performances, literature and lecture," he said.

The idea of classes is a great problem in this country asserted the speaker. He said he had heard recently, but could not vouch for the story, that the women of the cabinet would not make calls in future, but would simply send their cards, and the reason given was that a washerwoman had called on the wife of a cabinet officer. Senator Works said there was no reason why she should not have called, nor why the wife of the cabinet officer should not have returned the call.

"I believe in woman suffrage because I think it will be able to help to solse some of the great problems, although there are some problems confronting the country suffrage," said Senator Works. The Senator declared he thought the women would make things purer, sweeter, and happier if they got suffrage, and if not, he would regret it.

Continuing, he said: "I do not like to hear a woman say she ha sa right to vote. I would rather hear her say I desire to vote because of the good I can do the country. I do not believe a woman will be benefited in person by getting a vote; she may make society better and by so doing will be elevated along with it. As politics are now conducted, suffrage will not elevate woman.

"Some women think they are too good to become American citizens and voting will be degrading. There are men too high or to rich to become American citizens. The question of woman suffrage is to be determined by the women themselves. They have not accomplished very much yet.

"In States where franchise is granted women no great things have yet been accomplished; we must not expect that the women will revolutionize things at once. We have as high a class of women in California as any State. They obtained the franchise in a quiet and dignified manner. The men are broad minded enough to ask the women to come and help them solve some of the problems."

An interesting address ws made by Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, who took for her subject. "The Woman's Place—Home." The speaker declared she had no patience with a shrinking sisterhood. Her sisters, she declared, have political duties as well as others and in conclusion, she said the ballot will overcome many of the existing troubles.

Exceptions to many of the remarks of Senator Works were taken by Mrs. Elizabeth Grannis, of New York, in her opening remarks. The speaker kept her auditors in a state of merriment at times by her witticisms. She referred to the work being done by women for the upbuilding of the character of all classes of women. Speaking of the wage scale she said some women were not even worth the few dollars salary they were paid.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Alexandria.

A vote of thanks to the various people in Alexandria, including the church officials, who gave their aid to to the women, offered by Mrs. Pauline Steinem, of Toledo, also was adopted.

FARM LIFE DISCUSSED.

Need of Co-Operation in Buying And Selling Urged.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—The various committees and sections of the conferences for education in the south, n session here made farms and farm life the chief topic of discussion yesterday, the general meeting last night, in which all of the groups took part, being devoted to farm demonstration work. The importance of education was emphasized, speakers at the conferences conducted by the president of state colleges for women, asserting that public schools are totally inadequate in the matter of teaching as to meet modern conditions. The point was made that people are leaving the farms for the cities because of the absence of real country life and the drudgery that is forced upon the women.

The need of co-operation in buying and selling was strongly urged, the keynote of the addresses being that "The American farmer is so individualistic that he is forever kicking over thetraces instead of pulling together."

The conference on taxation took up the desirability of having a permanent tax commission in each state.

ELECT MRS. STORY.

Five Year Contest in D. A. R. Ended Yesterday.

Washington, April 19.—Mrs. Williams Cumming Story, head of the conservative faction, late yesterday afternoon was elected president general of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, defeating Mrs John Miller Horton, of Buffalo the administration candidate, on the third ballot. The vote stood: Mrs. Story, 600; Mrs. Horton, 449.

The result of the third ballot was announced about 5 o'clock, and the successful candidate was escorted to the platform. She was greeted by Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, retiring president general, and began her speech. She made a plea for harmony, and urged all the new general officers to do their utmost to bring peace between the factions that have waged an almost continuous warfare for the last five years.

The election of Mrs. Story ends a five year campaign. She was defeated by Mrs. Scott in the last two elections. The contest has been the most spirited in the history of the society, and has been exceedingly expensive for the candidates and the society.

BLAME LAID ON RURAL PREACHERS

Allegation That They are Evading Their Responsibility to God.

WANT SOLID READING.

"Cannot Breed Intellectuality Which Saves Souls in Pig Pens," is the Assertion.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—That the mission of the church is to minister to the life that now is, and that is neglecting the salvation of the rural communities from the primitive conditions that exist in many of them, the country preacher is evading his responsibility to God, was forcibly brought out in the country church conference yesterday afternoon, and some of the speakers did not mince words in saddeling the burden of duty where they think it belongs.

In fact, the rather plain language of several of the speakers created somewhat of a mild sensation, especially the declaration of Health Commissioner Williams, of Virginia, who told the country preachers that they couldn't breed intellectuality in a pig pen, and "you can't save souls until the individual has sufficient ntellectuality to understand that he has a soul to save."

That the country church can do a great work for the rural community by stimulating the reading of good literature by the young and the organization of community libraries, was also stressed by the speakers.

The conference was sorely disappointed in the absence of Miss Anna B. Taft, of New York, whose proposed discussion of the relation of the village church to the open country was looked forward to with much anticipatory interest.

The conference, after hearing the several excellent addresses, re-elected Dr. C. E. Branson, of Georgia, as its chairman, and elected Rev. Geo. H. Mayo, of Greene county, Va., to create the post of secretary. It also briefly summarized the results of its several meetings in the shape of a series of resolutions expressing the views of the conference as to the duty the country churches owe o the rural communities.

SCHOOL GIRL BRIDE.

Nuptial Romance Began With Babyhood.

Coatesville, Pa., April 19.—Married Thursday night to Zacharia Taylor, 15 or more years her senior, Miss Margaret Haldeman, 13 years old, a member of the sixth grade in the Coatesville public schools, took up her studies as usual yesterday morning, still the blushing and pretty little girl who was a favorite among her playmates, and the teacher had no knowledge that one of her little pupils was a married woman.

Taylor, a pipefitter, boarded with the Haldeman family for a number of years and took a special interest in Maggie from the time when she was a mere toddler. His infatuation for the child became so settled that a few days ago he asked the girl's parents for her hand and they consented. The pair were married.

Her hair plaited on each side of her head and hanging over her shoulders, girlish fashion, and wearing a short dress, the little woman tiptoed into school yesterday morning along with other scholars at her age. At recess, the child bride anxious to "tell just one girl friend" what had happened at the parsonage Thursday night, broke the secret of her marriage, and soon of course, everybody knew it.

This is the first instance in the history of this town that a bride has continued to attend school, and she may go on until she graduates.

Under the compulsory educational act the minimum age for refusing to attend school is 16 years, and the question is asked whether her marriage will annul the law in her case.

PASSOVER NEXT MONDAY.

Usual Services Will be Held in Synagogue in This City.

The Feast of Passover commemorating the deliverance of the Israelites from Egypt after 430 years of servitude, will be observed for seven days by all Hebrews throughout the world commencing next Monday evening.

Preparations for the feast have been practically completed by housewives, who make a thorough cleansing of the household. Nothing is overlooked and every article of furniture and dish is made to look as new as possible. The poor and needy have been looked after by special committees of benevolent workers.

The accounts of the sufferings of the Children of Israel and of their liberation occupies the first 15 chapters of the Book of Exodus.

In compliance with the Biblical command (Exodus xii, 19), the observant Jew, during Passover week, abstains strictly from the use of all leavened substances. Instead of the ordinary yeast bread, a species of large cracker called Matzoth unleavened bread is eaten. Before Passover arrive the observant Jew scrupulously removes from his premises every crumb of leaven that he is able to find. Sooner would he undergo great privations than touch a morsel of leaven at this season. During the Passover week the Jew of rigid Orthodoxy will not even use the same dishes and utensils in which, during the rest of the ear, leavened food has been placed.

While the entire week is festive in its nature, the large public gatherings for Passover worship take place in the synogogue only at the beginning of the week and at the end. Orthodox Jews have two days of "holy convocation" at either extreme, while Reform Jews observe only one day at either extreme.

Perhaps the most significant and beautiful aspect of the Passover celebration is the service which is held within the Jewish home on the first evening of the feast; among Orthodox Jews upon the first and second evenings.

The members of the family and their guests sit around the supper table which is spread with festive elegance. Upon the table are the "bitter herbs" and the rossted shank bone, the egg, the parsley, the bowl of salt water, the unleavened bread and other symbols. The service is read or rather chanted from a curious old book called the "Haggadah," which tells, with a little wit, humor, pathos and sublimity about the deliverance from Egypt, giving thanks for the great act of divine mercy, in many a psalm and hymn.

For the benefit of large numbers of Jews who no longer understand Hebrew, attempts have been made to translate the "Haggadah" in to English. But it is doubtful whether the best of translations can preserve the quaint charm of the original.

POPE STILL IMPROVING.

Passes Fairly Tranquil Night Without Fever.

Rome, April 19.—Pope Pius was sid to be much better today and his condition continued to mprove uninterruptedly. He passed a fairly tranquil night without fever, and early today partook of nourishment which his stomach retained without difficulty. His temperature was 97.1.

This is the third day the Holy Father has been without fever, and the physicians say that if he passes two more such days he may safely be regarded convalescent.

Professor Marchiafava and Dr. Amici, announcing that they would hereafter issue but one bulletin daily, today gave out this one:

"The Pope passed a tranquil night, and his condition is much improved. Temperature 97.1."

From midnight on the Pope passed a quiet night. He fell asleep early, and there was an absence of the vomiting that has disturbed him on previous nights. He is very weak, and brandy is small quantities was administered frequently.

He awoke early this morning, and was restless, his lips moving seemingly in prayer. But he said he felt better, and dismissed all but one attendant, then he fell asleep again.

The optimistic bulletins of the physicians, coming through the hands of Cardinal Merry del Val have not lulled the fears of the thousands in Rome who are anxiously watching the sick Pontiff. They continue to predict that Pope Pius is in danger of dying, the end being expected hourly.

PRESIDENT FAILS TO SEE WAR CLOUD

No Serious Trouble With Japan Expected by Head of Government.

STUDIES ALIEN LAWS.

Will Wait Until California Shall Have Enacted Legislation Before Passing Upon Same.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson will no admit that there exists any reason for a war scare in the Japanese situation.

He emphasized this today when he declined to meet a delegation of Californians who have been here for the last two weeks "explaining" just why California should enact the present existing anti-alien land owning legislation.

The President does not desire to emphasize the solution, but he also does not minimize it. He is keeping in touch with developments both in Japan and on the Pacific slope. The State Department has been instructed to watch the Anti-American meetings throughout Japan. At the same time the President by means of confidential agents, is keeping in touch with California.

The President has agreed to talk over the entire matter with Congressman Baker, of California. He deprecates the attempt to indicate that there is danger of a war with Japan growing out of the disputed legislation. But he will absolutely refuse to interfere with the California legislature until it is proved to his entire satisfaction that the laws now under consideration at Sacramento are violations on the Constitution of the United States. He believes in the doctrine of States' rights and in addition, has taken the stand that the so-called favored nation treaties are in violation of the spirit of the Constitution.

In order to be thoroughly familiar with all of the facts, the President has taken up the study of protests by Japan filed in the Roosevelt administration, the unofficial protest now before him presented by the Japanese ambassador, and the digest of the various state and Territorial laws. At the same time he instructed Secretary of State Bryan to have the American charge d' affairs at Tokio keep the department informed at all times of every development in Japan, and especially whether the Anti-American meetings now being held actually represent the feeling of the rank and file or whether they are backed by interested parties.

He has asked the Californians who have presented their views to him to hurry through the bills now pending at the capitol and then, as soon as the text is available, he will decide whether the State is still within its rights or whether he must repudiate the pending legislation and insist on amendments.

PAID $130 FOR A WIFE.

Fifteen-year-old Girl Says Her Father Sold Her.

Wilmington, Del., April 19.—A 15-year-old girl, Teresa Sasso, yesterday complained to the Wilmington police that her father had sold her in marriage, taking a sum of money from Antonio Cotillo in her presence, and that her father compelled her to go through a ceremony. The chief of police said that after an investigation he had ascertained that Cotillo had paid the father $130. The case was laid before Attorney General Wolcott, who directed the girl committed to an institution pending his application to the court for an annulment of the marriage.

The girl and Cotillo were married about a week ago, the girl's father joining in the application for the marriage license, as required by law, when either of the parties is under age. Immediately after the wedding the girl is said to have disappeared and was not found until Thursday afternoon. She had taken refuge at the house of a friend.

STATE OF MEXICO IS STILL SERIOUS

Huerta Government Represented as Being on Its Last Legs.

ARE CLOSING BUSINESS

Another Crisis in the Neighboring Republic Anticipated by United States Authorities.

Washington, April 19. — Another crisis in the Mexican situation is now seriously apprehended by the Federal authorities closest in touch with events in that country Advices received during the last few days indicate that fears for the ability of the Huerta government to maintain itself are well founded and the greatest pessimism prevails in regard to the situation. The revolutionary movement led by the rebellious Governro Carranza, in Coahuila, and adjoining states is regarded in Washington as the most threatening of the numerous forces arrayed against the provisional government.

The Madero family has cast in its lot with Carranza and will exert all its influence in Mexico and elsewhere in aid of the Carranza revolution. The northern part of Mexico is admittedly in control of Carranza and the State forces of Sonora. Huerta does not control all the Southern territory, however.

Foreigners are said to be closing out business connections in Mexico in even greater numbers than during the Madero and Orozco revolutions. Mills, factories and mines, are being closed down, and thousands are out of work in all parts of the country.

The collapse of Huerta government is contemplated here in the light of the greatest possible calamity. It would bring to the front again those questions which had the United States on the verge of war during the closing days of the last administration. It is not believed that even the Democratic administration would find it possible to stand quietly by and see anarchy reign in Mexico.

DEMENED FEMALE ON TRAIN.

Disappointed Woman Goes Raving Crazy Scaring Passengers.

Danville, Pa., April 19.—Grieved that her husband had failed to meet her at the Reading Railway station, in Sunbury, yesterday, a woman about 30 years old, who has big brown eyes, rosy cheeks and curly chestnut hair, went raving crazy on a train near here.

She attacked passengers and broke car windows, and a drug and handcuffs had to be used before she was subdued.

The woman was on her way from New Pullman, Ill., to Hazelton, Pa. At Sunbury she had to change cars, getting off the train here, she thought she was at Hazelton.

Not seeing her husband, who had promised to meet her, she shouted: "Where is my Jimmie?" and fainted.

Revived, she was put on a train for Hazelton, nearing Danville, she went insane, and seizing a suitcase, she ran through the aisle, breaking car window and batting passengers over the heads. Three women fainted.

Five men finally got her under control at Danville, and the train was held a half-hour until a doctor was summoned. He gave her hypodermics. Quieted, she remained so until nearing Hazleton, when she became excited again and charged through the car, pulling women's hats off and punching at faces. She was handcuffed for the rest of the trip.

BOY SHOT BY NEGRO MAN.

Alexandria County Authorities Make Vain Search for Rodger Parker, Charged With Crime

Although a house to house search was made throughout all the negro settlements in Alexandria county yesterday afternoon and last night by Sheriff A. H. Barbour and a posse of deputies and residents of the county, no trace was found of Roger Parker, a negro boy 18 years old, of Rosslyn, who yesterday shot William Meredith, a 15 year old white boy, while the latter was sitting in a trolley car at Rosslyn. Parker fired his pistol at a party of negroes who boarded the car at Rosslyn and young Meredith was shot in the right temple. The boy was taken to the Georgetown University Hospital, where his death is momentarily expected.

Immediately after the shooting Sheriff Barbour organized a posse of deputies and residents of Rosslyn as quickly as he could, and several automobile parties started out after the negro who fired the shot. A good description of him was telephoned to the Washington police, and two negros who tallied with it were picked up in a couple of hours in Georgetown by police of the Seventh precinct. They are being held as witnesses.

Crandall Mackey, Commonwealth's attorney of Alexandria county, joined in the chase with several of his neighbors last night when Jailor Harry Johnson, of the county, had gone up to Chain Bridge after word was received that the fugitive had been seen in that vicinity. There was a good deal of excitement on the streets of Rosslyn after the shooting, and some muttered talk of a lynching should the negro be caught, but Sheriff Barbour said he thought he and his deputies would have no trouble in guarding the prisoner.

Young Meredith, who is a son of Guy Meredits, foreman of Pennsylvania railroad teamsters, residing in Bennings, yesterday gained the consent of his parents to visit an aunt, Mrs. J. E. Kemp, living in Clarendon, Va.

As the crowd was approaching Rosslyn, a crowd of negroes was seen standing on the corner. Several of the negroes left the crowd and boarded the car. One of the negroes standing on the rear platform shouted an epithet at the negro standing on the corner just as the car was starting. Parker, it is said, ran out of the crowd, pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired.

In the hope of saving young Meredith's life surgeons at the Georgetown University Hospital operated on the boy today and removed the bullet, which entered the head in front of the right ear. Although in a serious condition, he is reported to have a chance for recovery

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

WORTH GETS FIVE YEARS.

Mrs. L. B. Bosserman Laughs at The Sentence.

Staunton, Va., April 19. — Late yesterday afternon the jury in the case of Albert D. Worth, a young hotel clerk, charged with shooting L. B. Bosserman here last February with intent to kill, returned a verdict of guilty and Worth was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. His attorneys have asked that the verdict be set aside on the ground that it is contrary to law and evidence, but there seems not the least possibility that the motion will receive favorable action by the court.

The sensation of the closing days of the trial, which has been in progress since Wednesday, was the testimony of Mrs. Nellie Rowan, a younger sister of Mrs. L. B. Bosserman over whom the shooting occurred. She said that she had been the object of Worth's affections and not Mrs. Bosserman and that she had had a surreptitious appointment with Worth at the Boserman home the day of the shooting. Her story was contradictory to statements she had previously made to officials and reputable witnesses and it seems probable that she, with Mrs. Bosserman will later be tried for perjury.

In the argument of the prosecuting attorney the relations of Mrs. Bosserman and Worth were held up to public scorn and indignation, and with relation to Mrs. Bosserman's testimony and that of her two sisters, all of whom were on the stand for the defense, the jury was told that "you have seen the very cup of perjury filled to the brim and drained to the dregs."

Worth took the verdict of the jury calmly and Mrs. Bosserman, evidently expecting him to be sentenced to ten years, laughed when she learned that he had escaped with five.

REV. J. T. GLICK WINS CONTEST.

Will be Virginia's Orator at Inter-State Prohibition Meeting.

The following colleges were represented: Roanoke, Emory and Henry, Richmond, Virginia, Christian, of Lynchburg, Daleville and Bridgewater.

First honor went to John T. Glick, of Brdigewater College, with J. W. Jackson, of Emory and Henry College, second. As a consequence Mr. Glick will represent Virginia in the interstate contest. The convention speakers yesterday were Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, and Dr. D. L. Colvin, of New York, national president of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

Powder Explodes; Mother and Two Children Killed.

Lynchburg, Va., April 19.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon of the fatal burning of the wife and two children of Peter Bryant, at Godes, Bedford county, Thursday. Mrs. Bryant died yesterday morning.

The children—a boy two years old, and a girl of 4 years—were playing with powder near the stove. It exploded, burning the children to death and so injuring the mother that she died from her burns. Bryant, who is a section foreman for the Norfolk and Western Railway, and three other children were away from home at the time of the accident.

BURGLAR SLAIN BY MERCHANT.

Negro Runs After Bullet Pierces Heart And Dies in Automobile.

Danville, Va. April 19.—A negro thought to be William Green, of Henry county, Va., a former convict sent up for larceny and who escaped from the state farm three years ago, was late Thursday night shot through the heart and killed by R. Sadler, a local store owner, while the negro was breaking into the store.

Sadler, who sleeps in a little room adjoining his store in Colquhoun street, was awakened at 11:30 and heard somebody trying to get in. Seizing his pistol, he left the building from the front and surprised the negro, who was working on the rear door with a "Jimmy" and shot him. The negro turned and ran a few feet, but was found by police detectives, who were hurriedly called fifteen minutes later, with a bullet through his heart.

The negro was still alive but died in an automobile in which he was rushed to a doctor. The police have wired to the authorities of the state farm to come and identify the man. There is a $50 reward for him.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Bristol Lineman Gets a Severe Electric Shock .

Bristol, Va., April 19.—J. H. Sansing, a lineman for the Western Union Telegraph Company, narrowly escaped death from an electric shock while adjusting wires on Sixth stret shortly before noon yesterday. His gloved hand came in contact with a live wire, carrying a voltage of 2,300. The current burned through the glove and broiled the flesh on his forefinger. With that he fell back unconscious, and would have fallen to his death on the pavement, but for a leather belt. It required fifteen minutes to rescue him from his perilous position. By that time he had regained consciousness. He is satisfied that the heavy glove he wore is what saved his life.

BURNED WAY TO LIBERTY.

Negro Prisoner Used Fire to Open Jail Door.

Petersburg, Va., April 19.—After burning the lock from his cell and employing the same means to get through the jail door, Edloe Hutchins, a negro fire bug, escaped and was being hunted yesterday by the police.

Hutchins was in the Sussex county jail charged with setting fire to a store. His strange affinity for fire led him to use it to obtain his liberty.

MURDERED BY NEGROES.

Clyde J. Carpenter Dies in a Hospital At Winchester.

Winchester, Va., April 19.—Clyde J. Carpenter, a young insurance agent, who was ambushed and shot by a crowd of masked negroes on Main street late Tuesday night, died yesterday at the hospital. Although the police made wholesale arrests, the coroner's jury this afternoon, in its verdict, failed to fasten the crime on any one and the negroes who had been arrested were released on bail.

The shooting, it is said, was due to Carpenter's alleged infatuation for Minnie Evans, a young octoroon, and as Carpenter was leaving her house he was fired on by the crowd of negroes concealed behind a stone fence.

GOV. MANN'S CONDITION.

Executive Expects to be Confined Several Days.

Richmond, April 19.—The condition of Governor William Hodges Mann who is ill with a mild attack of appendicitis is practically unchanged. His physicians announce that there are no unfavorable symptoms and it is not believed now that an operation would be necessary. The governor says he is feeling better. While he will be confined to the executive mansion for a week or ten days his condition is not regarded as at all serious.

It is understood that the executive has suffered comparatively little and the attack has been pronounced an exceedingly mild one.

The governor will not be moved from the executive mansion to a hospital unless some decidedly unfavorable and unlooked for developments arise.

TRAIN WINS IN RACE.

Miss Mary Borden is Operated on for Appendicitis.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—Miss Mary Borden, a member of a prominent Goldszboro, N. C., family, who was rushed to Richmond Thursday on a special train that she might lose no time in undergoing an operation for appendicitis, was reported resting comfortably today at St. Luke's hospital.

Instead of stopping at the Byrd street station, the train was brought to Harrison and Broad streets, which is within two blocks of the hospital. From that point Miss Borden was carried with all possible dispatch to the operating table, going under the knife in less than ten minutes after the train was brought to stop. The doctors said she would have probably died had the operation been delayed half an hour longer.

SALESMAN KILLED.

Handicapped by Luggage Could Not Maintain Hold on Coach.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—Edwin Reddin, a traveling salesman of this city, was killed Thursday evening on the Norfolk and Western Railroad, near Waverly. Mr. Reddin was at Waverly and wanted to go to Wakefield. He caught a train, landing on the steps. The door and the vestibule were locked. Handicapped with much luggage he managed to hold on for some two miles, when he is supposed to have lost his hold. He fell to the ground, his head striking a rock, and it is believed that death was instantaneous. He was 25 years old and unmarried.

ANNIVERSARY OF BALTIMORE RIOT.

Fifty-two years ago today, Massachusetts soldiers were attacked by Baltimoreans while passing through that city on the way to Washigton. The mob asailed the soldiers with bricks and other missiles until the latter were ordered to fire upon the crowds. Several Baltimoreans were killed and a number wounded. A few of the soldiers were killed also before the infuriated citizens could be scattered.

The fate of Maryland had hung for some time in the balance. Always regarded as a Southern state and numbered with those owning slaves, a large percentage of the people favored following for their commonwealth and joining the Confederacy. Many, however, were opposed to secession. The pro-Southerners were exasperated beyond measure, and threats had often been made, in the language of an old war song, that "No Yankee Volunteer soldiers pass through Maryland."

When the Sixth Massachusetts regiment arrived in Baltimore a large crowds gathered in the streets and their attitude soon became menacing. The Baltimoreans frequently attacked the soldiers, but the latter were loth to use their arms until it became necessary in order to protect themselves. The order to fire was finally given and for a time there were terrible scenes in the Monumental City. As is generally the case during riots, innocent bystanders were struck by bricks and bullets young and old being the victims.

An unarmed mob soon realized its disadvantages in the face of a regiment of soldiers, and were compelled to refrain from further overt acts, while the Massachusettes soldiers went on their way to the capital city.

Baltimore was immediately occupied by Federal soldiers and every precaution taken to prevent further outbreaks. Marshall Kane was arrested on the charge of entertaining disunion principles and cannon were planted in the streets.

Serene conditions followed in the city, but numbers of citizens of Baltimore and other sections of Maryland made their way south and joined the southern army. Maryland, later on in the war liberated the slaves.

THE FIRST COCKTAIL.

Said to Have Been Given to Wounded Duelist.

The festive cocktail has just passed its sixty-seventh birthday in the hale and hearty fashion and with this ripe old age it is still a prime favorite.

The cocktail was born in Washington.

In a rustic tavern on the edge of that city this famous old drink first saw the light of day and painted landscape in the brain of man.

A Virginian was indirectly responsible for the invention of this delectable drink, which has come down through the years as almost an international beverage.

One John A. Hopkins of Fairfax, Va., journeyed from that town to Bladensburg, Md., a suburb of Washington, to satisfy a long-standing grudge by means of a duel.

Mr. Hopkins, however, was the vanquished rather than the victor. His adversary's sword cut him so severely that he became faint and weak.

Thereupon he was carried to the Palo Alto Inn, a wayside hotel famous 68 years ago.

"Jack" Henderson, landlord of the inn and general all-round good fellow, proceeded to administer a stimulant to the exhausted Virginian.

On the spur of the moment the cocktail was invented as first aid to the injured.

Henderson perceiving the marvellous bracing qualities of this rare drink proceeded to dispense it to the habitues of his tavern, who, nothing loth to try a new brand of beverage, soon made it popular.

They called this strange mixture of sunshine and shadow the "cocktail."

In other days there had been a beverage called the cocktail, but it bore no relation to this famous stimulant that Jack Henderson applied to the wounded Virginian, and which even today is the source of pictures of the sunshine chasing across the golden grain field.

ECHO OF BEATTIE MURDER.

Senator Works Attacks Newspapers For Supplying Detals.

Senator Works made a vigorous attack on present-day journalism and the newspapers of United States in a speech Thursday in support of his bill to make it unlawful for District of Columbia newspapers to publish details of crimes, accidents and tragedies.

Aside from publication of crimes, accidents and tragedies the senator attacked newspapers for the discomfort and embarrassment caused the relatives and friends of persons involved. He cited the recent case of Henry Clay Beattie who killed his wife near Richmond, Va., to show how relatives of criminals suffered.

"It is well for the liberty of the people," sad the senator, "that censorship of the press is no longer allowed in this country. It was this that the constitution was intended to prevent. But to censor the press and thereby say what shall and what shall not be published is one thing, and to make one responsible for a violation of the privileges thus secured to him is quite another. Teh very fact that the rights to publish what one pleases without abridgment exists is the strongest possible reason for making the publishers of news liable for abusing their right and privilege.

"I maintain that if a newspaper publishes matter that is deleterious and poisonous to the minds of its readers, thus violating the rules of good morals and decency, it should be made criminally liable for this offense, an offense far more important and hurtful than the libel of the individual and upon precisely the same principles."

MOTHERS SELL THEIR BABIES.

Inhuman Traffic Revealed in Chicago Probe.

Inhuman conditions at "baby farms" in Chicago were revealed yesterday in the Illinois House committees investigation of maternity homes and institutions, where children are kept. They were such as to bring from Chairman Thomas Curran the assertion that the barter of flesh has not ceased and that dealing in babies is the "most dastardly business existing."

The representatives were told that mothers contracted for the disposal of their infants before birth, signing an agreement which ends:

"I promise and declare I will never see said child, but no release and abandon it forever."

They were informed that babies were shipped out of the state when only a few hours old and their mothers were hired out to nurse the infants of the wealthy.

The testimony brought out the fact that 85 per cent. of the unmarred patients in the "lying-in" hospitals are girls from out of the state, who come to the city to hide their shame. The heads of the homes said they had "babies for adoption," but that such advertisements are blinds. They asserted the demand for infants exceeded the supply.

SMILES.

By The Second Ward Bard.

A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY.

In the spring a young man's fancy to the thought of love returns,
And his ardent hopes are quickened,
and his heart with rapture burns,
So he stands and shows his longing,
at the corner of the street,
Watching while the girls are passing,
while his throbbing pulses beat.

At no other season do the womenfolks so sweetly seem:
Blessed with so much dainty beauty,
like the sweetheart of a dream,
At no other season can the maiden find so rare a chance,
For the boys are seeing darkly through the glass as in a trance.

While Bill Boggs is standing meekly on the curb, in love-sick daze,
Susan Ann comes tripping lightly through the twilight's golden haze
She is gowned in stylish raiment, gotten up to beat the band,
So Bill loves, despite her freckles, and resolves to seek her hand.

While the evening shades are falling
Liza Jane comes strolling by,
And the love-lorn Andy Smithkins watches her and heaves a sigh,
Yet, he knows about her temper, knows her false and foolish pride,
But the maid looks good to Andy, and he thinks she'll be his bride.

In the rapture of the spring-time youth is crazed with romance, bright,
And they think of love by day-light and they dream of love by night.
But this mad infatuation keeps the wedding-bells in tune,
And the girls are making trousseaux for the honey-moons in June.

We trust that Braxton Smith will be a sport and stand for a few fines, so we won't be deprived of seeing murders and other violent moving-picture pastimes.

Yes, Walter Varney, just as soon as you have your motor-boat remodeled, we shall be delighted to go riding with you.

Cecil Sherman builds a boat and plans a trip abroad,
She is fitted for the seas while at the dock she's moored, Seamen will be needed just as soon as she's afloat.

John E W. Wayman, former state's attorney, of Chicago, a succumbed to his self-inflicted wounds early yesterday nine hours after he had discharged into his body two bullets from an automatic pistol given into his keeping by Charles Lund, whom he was to defend upon charges of killing Edward Paul, a labor leader, on April 11. This tragedy was an incident of the strike of union painters and Wayman had taken the pistol home for examination.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

While picking wild flowers in the woods near Brockton, Beaver county, Pa., yesterday, Thelma McConnell, aged 10 years, and her sister, Louise, 8 years, were asphyxiated. Fumes from a leaking natural gas pipe crossing the McConnell farm are blamed for the tragedy. The deadly fumes, hanging thick in the bushes and undergrowth, formed a pocket, or trap, into which the girls strayed. Their father found both girls lying close together. Both lay not far from an uncovered gas line. In their hands the children still held the flowers they had gathered.

Representative Thetus W. Sims, of Tennessee, and Mr. Charles C. Glover, banker and capitalist, of Washington D. C., met yesterday morning in Farragut square. It was the first meeting since Mr. Sims, on the floor of the House, had criticised Mr. Glover's connection with real estate operations in which the government had to do with acquiring more land for Rock Creek Park. It was also the first time since Mr. Glover, before a congressional committee, had replied to Mr. Sims. Glover slapped the face of the Congressman and there was considerable excitement before passersby parted the two men.

While his wife, young son, and other passengers on a crowded trolley car looked with horror George L. Greene last night ended his life by jumping from a bridge into the Schuylkill river, 50 feet below near Philadelphia. Greene was returning to his home in West Philadelphia from Atlantic City, when he suddenly sprang from his seat, and, throwing his overcoat into his wife's lap, leaped from the moving car. Greene is said to have been despondent because he recently lost his position in a printing house.

"I never knew my husband to take a bath, and he used liquor constantly,' was the testimony of Bertha Teal, of Milford, Mass., in the court today, at the reading of her divorce libel, alleging her husband, William E. Teal, of Chicago, had contracted the habits of intoxication. The decree was granted. At the time of the marriage, in 1901, the petitioner was fifteen years old, and her husband was sixteen years her senior.

Champ Clark and William J. Bryan have settled their differences. They were brought together at a luncheon in Washington yesterday afternoon for the first time since the falling out at the Baltimore convention, which resulted in the overthrow of the Clark boom and the nomination of Woodrow Wilson. The two clasped hands, broke bread together, and issued statements. The Secretary of State said, in effect: "You were all right, Champ; it was the company you were keeping that I objected to." The Speaker, in his statement, concedes nothing, except that Mr. Bryan now has done, all that he can do to repair the injury inflicted at the Baltimore convention.

John Tornow, the outlaw who killed his twin nephews and four deputy sheriffs who attempted to capture him was shot to death by Deputy Sheriff Quimby near Shelton, Wash. Tornow had defied the authorities for nearly a year. The body of the outlaw resembled that of a wild beast more than a human, according to members of the posse. In the year that he had been hiding in the region his clothing had been supplanted by a gunny sack. His face was covered by a shaggy black beard and his hair was long and unkempt. There were no provisions in his cabin, and it was believed he had lived for several months on frogs captured in a near-by pond, and squirrels, which he caught in a trap he had built. He had saved his ammunition to shoot at the posse which was pursuing him. He had only one cartridge left when he was killed.

The last act in the farce prepared by Joseph Wilberforce Martin and his friends was played when telegrams were received in London from Martin dated Vevey, Switzerland, saying: "Cease inquiries. All well. Writing." Both Scotland Yard men and Detective Burns believe the message to be genuine.

Large consumers of ice in New York are receiving notices that artificial ice, as well as natural ice will be advanced to $6 a ton on May 1. A month ago ice was selling at $3.50 a ton. So far as natural ice is concerned, the advance in price is explained by a scarcity of the supply, but no explanation is made in the notice of advance in the artificial product.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF RESIDUE.

Trustee's sale of the residue of the "Belvoir" or "White House' tract of land located in Mt. Vernon Magisterial District, Fairfax County, Va., containing approximately 1100 acres with improvements.

By virtue of the authority vested in us by the will of Philip Otterback, deceased, and under decree of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, Va., in the suit of Otterback vs. Bohrer, at its March term, 1913, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Royal Street entrance to the Market House in Alexandria, Virginia, at the above described property.

This tract, the old home of Lord Fairfax and separated from George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, by Dogue Creek, originally consisted of approximateely twenty-seven hundred (2,700) acres, of which 1,500 acres has been taken by the United States Government for a school of Equitation or Horsemanship. The balance between ten and twelve hundred acres consists of valuable farming lands and about eight hundred (800) acres of valuable timber. It has a large deep water frontage on the Potomac river as well as a large frontage on Dogue Creek, with valuable fishing shores. The property is improved by the old mansion house, familiarly known for many years as the "White House," a club house, barns, stables, out-buildings and tenant houses. It is situated on the county road between Mt. Vernon and Accotink and is about four miles by road from Mt. Vernon. This property is one of the most historic in the section and would make a very desirable country estate because of its location and the opportunities afforded for fishing and shooting.

NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED

Camp Fire Girls Open Their Headquarters.

The Camp Fire Girls of Alexandria met in their new headquarters, Boy Scouts' Rooms, Sarepta Hall, Thursday afternoon and names presented were voted upon.

There were about sixty present and they expressed themselves as well pleased, stating that they had enjoyed themselves fully.

The girls will assist the scouts in equipping the building, which promises to be the best in the country. The girls earnestly solicit the assistance of all Alexandrians, and anyone having anything to donate will please notify the officers and they will gladly send for the same. Good books, magazines, games, tables, flags, pictures, eac., are needed, but most of all chairs are lacking. The girls trust some patriotic citizen will come to their assistance substantially in this way.

The plan of the promoters is to have able speakers address the girls weekly aside from instructions in music, panitaing, drawing, sewing cooking and athletics, as well as the pleasures of the best game room in the country and up-to-date reading room where only the best literature will be permitted.

It was decided by Mr. Rudd, the scout commissioner, the girls and their assistants, that, owing to the limited space, members only will be accorded the use of the rooms.

As stated Thursday the girl's meetings will be exclusive of the boys the girls meeting afternoons from 3 to 5:30 and the boys Saturday and evenings from 7 to 9:30.

Good speakers will address the boys Sunday afternoons and union services will be conducted Sundays at opportunity affords.

The co-operation of all the churches is solicited and all day Sunday school and public school teachers are requested to attend the meetings.

All parents are welcome to call and examine conditions. The pastors of the city are also cordially invited to interest themselves in the movement and any suggestion that will lift our boys and girls up into a higher and nobler place of living will be carefully and prayerfully advanced as deemed advisable to all girls and boys of Alexandria and vicinity.

The following new members were received Thursday:

Anna Haslett, Lydia Hammond, Kathryn Henderson, Rena Schlichting, Agnes Sweeney, Anita Birrell, Helen Moore, Lorine Reishell, Edna Smith, May Elliott, Nora Lannon, Agnes Trumble, Cora Uulman, Elizabeth Howell, Frances McDermott Sarah Rose, Mildred Kellar, Katie Grillbortzer, Lucile Johnson, Helen Gulland, Marion Otes, Ruth Simmons, Effie Simms, Grace Wells, Pauline Ballenger, Annie Ballenger, Jaunita Hammersley, Doris Bruin, Kathryn Newlon, Agnes Hayden, Mary Reed, Edith Whitton, Dorothy Phaskett, Lucy Lynn, Bessie Roberts, Amelia Schlicting, Hattie Meade, Melissa Harper, Carson McIntosh, Marguerite Earheart.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

More Jingooism And Talk of Sending Fleet to This Country.

Dispatches from Tokio say that the Japanese government considers the present Anti-Japanese movement in California as most dangerous, and is faced with the prospect of placing itself in a most unwelcome position owing to the unwillingness of the federal government at Washington to intervene and the impossibility of introducing counter measures here.

In the event of the passage of the California alien land-holding bill through both houses of the legislature, Japan will issue an imperial ordinance enforcing the Japanese foreign land-ownership bill of 1910, and will apply to the federal government at Washington for permission for the Japanese to become naturalized citizens of the United States.

The foreign land-ownership bill passed by the Japanese diet in March, 1910, prohibits foreigners, except under certain restrictions, from owning land in Japan, and they may not own land at all in Saghalien, Formosa, Hokkaido or the fortified zones. This law has never yet been officially promulgated.

At the great mass meeting of protest held in Tokio Thursday night there was a hysterical anti-American outburst. Deputy Matsumura urged the dispatch of a Japanese fleet to California as a first step toward establishing Japan on an absolutely equal footing in the United States.
